SEVEN STATES GO "DRY" WITH NEW YEAR'S ADVENT

No More Booze in South Carolina, Iowa, Colorado, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Arkansas.

PUTS END TO 3,000 SALOONS

Expected Disorder in Cities of Far West, Where Drunken Carnivals Were Looked For, Does Not Materialize—All Rigid Laws.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 1.—State-wide prohibition of the sale and manufacture of intoxicating liquors became effective in seven States at midnight last night, putting out of business more than 3,000 saloons, a large number of breweries, wholesale liquor houses and distilleries.

The States which entered the "dry" column are South Carolina, Iowa, Colorado, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Arkansas.

In Colorado, district attorneys, at a recent meeting, agreed that technically the constitutional prohibition amendment and the enforcing statute do not become effective until midnight, January 1, but it was also decided that the expiration of all liquor licenses at midnight last night would render liquor sales on New Year's Day unlawful. According to one authority, between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 have been expended for liquor in Colorado within the last week.

Arkansas will have its first experience with prohibition when the State-wide law, passed by the last Legislature, goes into effect. The Arkansas department of the Anti-Saloon League has announced that the league will have workers in the field to see that the law is enforced. Antiprohibition leaders have announced that no fight will be made for the repeal of the law at least until prohibition has been given a thorough trial.

"BARGAIN DAY" OBSERVED IN SALOONS IN IOWA

In Iowa, "bargain day" sales in the 502 saloons of the State were in progress, preparatory to the final closing last night. Under the new act, passed by the last Legislature, statutory prohibition is restored, pending the action of the next Legislature, and the vote of the people on the proposed constitutional amendment for prohibition which is to be disposed of within the next two years.

In Oregon the manufacture or sale of any kind of intoxicating liquor is absolutely prohibited by constitutional amendment. Drug stores are not permitted to sell liquor for any purpose, with or without a doctor's prescription. Each family may import for personal use a maximum either of two quarts of spirituous or vinous liquors or twenty-four quarts of malt liquor in any period of four successive weeks. No person other than a common carrier may make deliveries of liquor, and the purchaser of liquor illegally is made equally culpable with the seller.

In the State of Washington the initiative prohibition law ratified in November, 1913, permits residents to purchase from dealers outside the State two quarts of spirituous liquor or twelve quarts of beer each twenty days.

Idaho went "dry" last night by virtue of statutory prohibition. Most of the State has been "dry" under local option, and only about fifteen saloons were forced out of business. Idaho's prohibition law is said to be the most drastic in the Union. It not only prohibits the manufacture and sale of liquor, but makes possession of any kind of malt or spirituous liquor a crime, excepting wine for sacramental purposes and pure alcohol for medicinal, scientific and mechanical uses, which are procurable only on an order from the Probate Court.

Lime Medication in Tuberculosis

In the N. Y. Medical Record of December 5, 1914, Dr. John North, Toledo, says: "I have come to the conclusion that one of the most prominent causes (of tuberculosis) is lime starvation."

In all cases of incipient tuberculosis there is a deficiency of calcium. Many do not eat food containing enough lime. In such cases we must resort to lime medication."

Eckman's Alternative should be given a fair trial in such cases, because one of its chief ingredients is calcium (lime), in such combination with other remedial agents as to be easily assimilated by the average person.

Where its use is combined with proper diet, fresh air and hygienic living conditions, we believe it will prove beneficial in any case of tuberculosis. It contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, so is safe to try. Sold by Trangle Drug Co. and leading druggists. Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia.

AUSTRIANS GENEROUS IN GIFTS FOR CHARITY

Enormous Sums Gathered in Many Ways for All Classes of War Sufferers.

ARDOR STILL UNDIMINISHED

Constantly New Schemes Are Being Worked Out, Many Assuming Character of Self-Imposed Taxation in Small Amounts.

VIENNA, January 1.—Enormous sums of money have been collected in Austria-Hungary for charitable purposes during the war. No reliable figures on the total obtained are yet available, but estimates place it as high as 250,000,000 crowns (approximately $18,000,000). Much of this money has been applied already, but large sums are still available for the needs of those for whom it was collected.

The money has been raised in every manner the fertile brains of social leaders and newspaper editors could devise. Charity teas and suppers, the sale of needlework done by society people, benefit performances at the theaters, the public sale of art objects which people were willing to donate, and a hundred similar enterprises have given keen competition to the plain subscription and collection campaigns waged by the newspapers. At present an art exhibition sale is in progress, from which both the admission fees and entire proceeds of sale will go to the fund for blind veterans. Some of the foremost painters of the country have contributed to the collection, and, while many of the pictures are by unknown men and women, there is not one in the lot that does not have merit of a high order. Going on at the same time are several series of lectures on the war by the Austro-Hungarian and German war correspondents, invalided officers and statesmen.

All social classes take an interest in the work, and a remarkable feature of it is that a year of collections has left the ardor of organizers and of the public almost undiminished. Constantly new schemes are being worked out, many of the recent ones assuming the character of self-imposed taxation in small amounts. Of these a ten-heller (2 cents) tax on all bills is probably the most successful.

Of newspaper collections, that of the Vienna Neue Freie Presse has been the most remarkable. It has included the raising of large sums for blind veterans, for prisoners of war, for Christmas presents for soldiers, for the supply of artificial limbs, for the Bulgarian and Austrian Red Cross, for the tubercular soldiers, for widows and orphans, for assistance to needy students, for fugitives from the southern theater of the war, for increasing the submarine fleet, and numerous other specific purposes.

A prominent Budapest newspaper, Az Est, for instance, collected nearly 2,000,000 crowns to help the people in the Carpathians and Northern Hungary to rebuild their villages, which had been destroyed during occupation by the Russians. A clever scheme was devised for this collection. It is customary in Hungary to make presents to a woman on a day carrying her name in the calendar. For instance, on Mary's Day, all Marys in Hungary are remembered by their friends. Az Est suggested that the money to be spent in this way be turned over to the village-building fund.

Much of the money that is being collected is the fruit of little self-denials, a single day's list showing such entries as the following:

"Instead of buying a new dress, 200 crowns; in place of birthday presents for my father, 50 crowns; instead of flowers for the grave of Captain —, 100 crowns; to give satisfaction in an affair of honor, 2,000 crowns; for the birth of a son, 200 crowns."

There is no doubt that Austria-Hungary's population, without distinction to class, has come loyally to the support of those in the field and their families, and those whom the war has deprived temporarily of means of livelihood. While the exchange of Red Cross and similar funds between Austria-Hungary and Germany has been solely a matter of courtesy between allies, Austria-Hungary has already spent the greater part of 1,000,000 crowns in Red Cross work in Bulgaria. It has sent military equipment and supplies worth over 1,000,000 crowns to Turkey, and even in Poland, Austro-Hungarian charity work has been felt. As soon as conditions in Serbia make it possible, it is understood that money and supplies will be sent there also.
